

Statement for Human and Animal Right Ethics

Ethics in Human, Animal and Clinical Investigations: All papers containing animal data must include a statement from your university's Animal Ethics Committee approving your protocol. Investigations with human subjects must follow the Declaration of respective government guidelines and be approved by the institutional human experimentation committee, or equivalent, and have signed in-formed consent.

“Mirror of research in veterinary sciences and animals” strongly condemns unethical animal and clinical investigations.